WEBSITE AND SOCIAL MEDIA

the audit checklist.

30 quick checks we run before we touch any brand's marketing. Go through them with your own website and Instagram open. Every box you can't tick is something costing you customers today.

1. Open your pages
Your website on a phone, your Google listing and your Instagram profile.

2. Tick honestly
Only tick a box if it is true today, not "almost".

3. Fix the gaps
Start with the first two sections. They usually matter most.

01 Website: first five seconds

A visitor decides in seconds whether to stay. These checks make sure they understand you before they leave.

- [ ] The top of the home page says, in one plain sentence, who you help and what you do.
- [ ] There is one clear main button (Call, WhatsApp, Book, Buy) visible without scrolling.
- [ ] Phone number and WhatsApp are tap-to-call / tap-to-chat on mobile.
- [ ] The page loads fast on a phone over mobile data. Test it free at pagespeed.web.dev.
- [ ] Text is easy to read on a phone without zooming; buttons are big enough to tap.
- [ ] Every page has a clear next step at the bottom, not a dead end.

02 Website: trust and proof

People buy from brands they trust. Show the proof instead of describing yourself.

- [ ] Real photos of your work, team, store or product (not only stock images).
- [ ] At least three genuine reviews or client quotes, with names where allowed.
- [ ] Work or case studies that show the problem, what was done and the result.
- [ ] Address, phone and email are the same everywhere they appear online.
- [ ] The contact form is short, says who replies and how fast, and works on mobile.
- [ ] A privacy line near the form says how you use the details people share.

03 Getting found on Google

Most local customers search before they call. Make sure Google can find and understand you.

- [ ] Your Google Business Profile is claimed, verified and fully filled in.
- [ ] The profile has recent photos, opening hours, services and a booking or call link.
- [ ] You reply to every Google review, good or bad, within a few days.
- [ ] Each important page has its own title and description that say what it is about.
- [ ] Your site has a sitemap and is added to Google Search Console.
- [ ] You have at least a few pages that answer the questions customers actually ask.

04 Instagram and social

Your profile is your second home page. Treat the first screen like a shop window.

- [ ] The bio says what you offer, where, and for whom, in one or two lines.
- [ ] The link in bio goes to one useful page (shop, booking or WhatsApp), not a dead link.
- [ ] Profile picture is your logo or face, readable at small size.
- [ ] Highlights cover the basics: work or products, reviews, prices or menu, how to order.
- [ ] You post on a steady rhythm you can keep, and reels lead with the hook in the first second.
- [ ] Comments and DMs get a reply within one working day.

05 Ads and tracking

Before spending on ads, make sure you can see what is working.

- [ ] Meta Pixel and Google tag are installed and record leads or purchases correctly.
- [ ] Each campaign has one clear goal (leads, sales, installs) and a number you check weekly.
- [ ] Ads send people to a page that matches the ad, not just the home page.
- [ ] You test a few creatives at a time and turn off the ones that do not work.
- [ ] Leads from ads are called back fast, ideally within an hour.
- [ ] You know your cost per lead or per sale, not just reach and likes.

YOUR SCORE

25–30
Strong. Your basics are in place; now it is about better content and smarter spending.

15–24
Leaking. People find you but some leave before they call. Fix the unticked boxes first.

0–14
Start here. Fix the website and Google basics before spending more on ads.
